Dear Mr. Proem:

I have pleased to write for applying the position “Web Developer Internship” since I see your announcement. It truly caught my feeling. Depend on the job description and requirements, I think this sounds like a chance for me to have a work there.

Nowadays, I am studying fourth year at the Institute of Technology of Cambodia (ITC) in the department Information and Technology Engineering. In consequence, I strongly believe that I could gain adequate knowledge and competence as well as experience in order to develop my professional skill.

During my academic year, I have learned a lot about IT skill both theory and practice. For theory, I have learned HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, JavaScript, JQuery, MY SQL, PHP, Algorithms, C, C++ and Java Programming. In addition, I ensure that these concepts really match your requirements, and I would be strong candidate for the position. Essentially, I will be fully and heavy responsibilities on my work. I'm a proactive and confidently person with enthusiasm and sincere efforts. Throughout my academic years, my perseverance and hardworking enabled me to do well in project. I'm keen on working individually or as a group. I'm flexible and adaptable in learning new things.

I would appreciate for your giving me the opportunity to discuss my qualifications personally with you.

Thank you for considering my candidate. I'm looking forward for your decision soon.
Faithfully yours,
Sincerely

HEL Mab
